

THE UNIVERSITY OF MELBOURNE

This certificate is awarded to

Marsha Damita Siagian

in recognition and appreciation for working during Orientation 2004 as a Student Host.

The Orientation Program introduces new students to the University of Melbourne. The program is designed to assist new students settle in to university life.

Student Hosts play a vital role in welcoming new students to the campus. They participate in a comprehensive training session which includes the compulsory components to hosting as well as designing their own tours and providing students with additional information as necessary.

This role requires good communication skills, maturity, flexibility, cultural awareness and sensitivity, enthusiasm and a practical knowledge of the University environs, administration and services.

The University of Melbourne greatly values and appreciates the contribution of the Student Hosts and we thank them for their efforts.

Professor Warren Bebbington
Academic Coordinator
Orientation 2004

Cressida Metcalf
Host Program Coordinator
Orientation 2004